

VOGUE

12 of the Best Design Exhibitions to See This Fall

by Madeleine Luckel
September 18, 2018

An installation view of Sterling Ruby: Ceramics, in its first iteration at the Des Moines Art Center.. Photo: Courtesy of Des Moines Art Center

Sterling Ruby: Ceramics* at the Museum of Arts and Design New York, New York

Prepare for a bevy of vases, ashtrays, and more in this exhibition focused on the accomplished contemporary artist. In this show, Ruby, who may be best known within the fashion world thanks to his collaborations with Raf Simons, builds upon the work of his predecessors. "He's really thoughtful of the lineage that came before him," says Shannon Stratton, the chief curator of the New York's Museum of Arts and Design, explaining Ruby's understanding of the American Studio Craft Movement.

Opens October 3, 2018