ARIANA PAPADEMETROPOULOS, VITO SCHNABEL, NEW YORK

I'll take any opportunity to step into artist Ariana Papademetropoulos' dreamy world, and Baby Alone in Babylone is no exception. Throughout the show - made of new works - we follow a baby unicorn through a "fantastical journey from youthful innocence to maturity, towards liberation and individuation". Papademetropoulos also draws on the 15th-century lore of the mythical unicorn, specifically two tapestries of the late Middle Ages: The Lady and the Unicorn (Musée National du Moyen Âge, Paris), an allegorical fable of the five senses, and The Hunt of the Unicorn (The Cloisters, Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York), to explore awakening and transformation in her signature style.

Baby Alone in Babylone runs from 11 November 2022 - 7 January 2023
